

Unique Groomsmen Gifts

Many grooms I talk to are looking for something different when it comes to groomsmen gifts. If they are in that 20-30 year old age range, they've been to several weddings for their friends. Many have themselves served as trusted groomsmen in other weddings. The sophisticated groom is looking for unique groomsmen gifts. He's seen flasks, wallets, cufflinks and lighters given out as groomsman gifts and he's looking for something unique. Something to set his wedding apart from the crowd.

The easiest way to find unique groomsmen gifts is to locate an engraving house that does their own designs. Creative personalization firms will offer a new twist on gift items that you've seen out there. They go the extra mile to make the engraving look a little more intricate, different and a bit more special.

Suggests for exclusive groomsmen gifts not offered all over the web are as follows:

1. Sports mugs with wedding crests. A big 25 ounce sports mug is a handy gift by itself. Add an engraved wedding crest that has been designed by Gunther's master engraver and you have a work of art that will be used and appreciated for years to come by your best man, each groomsman and your ushers.
2. Engraved baseball bat. Go with three lines of text laser engraved on a wooden baseball bat by Rawlings. The top line and bottom line are in an arc shape for extra flair and good looks. Baseball bats can be kept pristine in a holder by the gift recipient or actually used out on the field. Why not? A professional grade Rawlings 34" adult wood baseball bat is begging to be used. It doesn't want to sit in a closet or garage! It wants some game time.
3. Liquor flasks with intricate matrimonial motifs. Do a new twist on a tried-and-true wedding attendant gift. The flask is something many grooms just can't resist. Give one that can't be picked up at any fly-by-night website. Go with designs that have been painstakingly drawn up and translated into state-of-the-art engraving equipment.
4. Zippo lighters with custom templates. A Zippo lighter with one line of engraving done on it is boring. Go with a circular template, a spiral, a square, a unique engraving template where you get to use your words in a design that no other engraving firm in the nation can deliver. Gunther lighters are the bomb. Not only will you find discounted pricing, but you'll find the most interesting and unique designs available in order to personalize your Zippo like no other can.
5. Engraved Leatherman tools, Gerber knives and Buck knives. Many guys like pocket knives, tools or gadgets. These are items that will get years of usage. Tools last for decades. Spend your money wisely and give something that will outlive your next car.

Unique personalized gifts are out there for your groomsmen. With a little searching on the internet, you'll quickly identify the engraving houses that do a little extra. Check the pricing and make sure you are in budget and pick something cool that you yourself would like. You can't go wrong if you follow this approach for your wedding party gifts.
